

Online Community Resources-Guidelines for Submission

Submissions can be made to pdxintersangha@gmail.com and must be in the following file types: .doc .docx .pdf .txt .jpeg .jpg .png, .mp3 .mpa .wav

Recovery Dharma is a peer-led program, and as such, welcome peer-developed materials that are made available through our website. So that your materials meet or exceed the standards of the PDX Intersangha during the review process, please take a look at the guidelines below, which are informed by the Recovery Dharma Core Intentions.

The materials/resources being submitted:

- Support the goal of creating more safety and understanding
- Do not infringe on the confidentiality of any member(s)
- Are given freely in the spirit of generosity
- Are free of any commercial interest or advertisement
- Are in keeping with Buddhist practices and principles, including all folds of the 8-fold path (Wise Understanding, Wise Intention, Wise Speech, Wise Action, Wise Livelihood, Wise Effort, Wise Mindfulness, Wise Concentration)
- Were created as original works by the author(s), or if inspired by another source, that work is given proper credit with the original author acknowledged
- Are inclusive and relevant to the Sangha

Submitted materials/resources undergo a review by the PDX Intersangha Working group on the 2nd Saturday of every month. If your materials/resources are found to be suitable for the wider sangha following this process, they will be made immediately available on www.recoverydharmapdx.com And you will receive e-mail notification.
